Thursday.

Dear Harold:

I'm sorry about two things: first, that your eyes are troubling you; and second, that I haven't answered your last few letters.

About your eyes: take care of them, and let every thing else go to hell. Take it from me, Harold, your health is more important than anything and everything, so you owe it to yourself to get fixed up once and for all.

About the story: I think it's swell. Bob Rogers is going over it now, and we hope to use it in our next issue, which we are just starting. Reason I didn't write you sooner is that we were closing the January issue, and we were quite busy the last week.

Bob Rogers just told me that he'll send a voucher through next week for your check, which means you will get it shortly. Usually we don't pay until publication; but he's rushing yours through.

I don't know if we'll need you ^{any more} on the Bata story. If so, I'll get in touch with you. But as far as I can see, we have enough stuff, and I have hundreds of pictures from the agencies. Any additional documentation, of course, will always be appreciated, whether or not we use it.

I'd suggest you send me a list of expenses in making photostats, photographs, etc. Hope this leads to many more stories. Good luck, Harold.

Best regards from

Max
